Trumpet Voluntary Prince of Denmark's March

Jeremiah Clarke
Arranged by David Marlatt

The famous Trumpet Voluntary by Jeremiah Clarke (1673-1707) was falsely ascribed to Henry Purcell until 1953. In the 17th Century a trumpet voluntary was a piece that was not actually written for trumpet. It was written for solo organ and meant to be played on a trumpet sounding stop. This Prince of Denmark's March was originally found in Clarke's "Choice Lessons for the Harpsichord or Spinnet".

All dynamics, articulations and some ornaments (trills) have been added by the editor and may be ignored or altered to better suit the performers.

Keyboard scores have been provided in the keys of D and B-flat. With this piece in B-flat concert, players perform on b-flat trumpets (as written). Performance in the original key of D concert should be performed on piccolo trumpets.

TRUMPET VOLUNTARY

(Prince of Denmark's March)

Jeremiah Clarke
(1673-1707)

Arranged by D. Marlatt

The musical score is arranged in three systems. Each system contains two staves for Solo Trumpet 1 and Solo Trumpet 2, and a grand staff for piano accompaniment. The tempo is marked 'Maestoso' with a metronome marking of quarter note = 112. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The score includes various musical notations such as dynamics (f), trills (tr), and articulation marks (accents). The piano part features a steady bass line and harmonic support for the trumpets. A large 'PREVIEW ONLY' watermark is overlaid across the middle of the page.
